

Sportswear Industry Shamed by New Allegations on Working Conditions

2008/04/21 Monday 12:00:00 CEST

æ-πæ-†å°šæœªæœ%œä,-æ-†ç¿»è´

PRESS RELEASE- "No real progress" since Athens games, say PF08 campaigners

- China: workers glueing sports shoes for less than $2 per day, stitching footballs for $0.50 each

Brussels - As the clock ticks down to the Beijing Olympics, workers producing for the international sportswear companies that spend millions on Olympic and athletic sponsorship deals are still working excessive hours and paid poverty wages, according to a damning new report, "Clearing the Hurdles , Steps to improving working conditions in the global sportswear industry ", from Play Fair 2008 (PF08).

Read more about actions around the world to push the sportswear industry to take action.